

Epoch Of Unlight "Broken Pendulum"

Visit "Broken Pendulum" on MotoLyrics.com

An inevitable cycle structures fail to stand tall upon this broken Pendulum

Descend into the great fall with arms to govern and minds to crawl

Beneath this frame frail and small

Grinding teeth and cracking bones

Metal splinters and pins

Money to dust gold into rust

And everything in between will die with time

Industrial soil erosion craters fill with blood

Rivers of hydraulic fluid form canyons below

Filling the air with sounds cutting metal

Cranks turn and gears move

Cracking the surface aged and weathered

Her tears will burn the face you'll fail to recognize when she's in pain

Growing withered and tired

Charred from the sun's poison

Burning sight and melting our Future
