And I'll never see what I wanted
And I see your face with tears
Longing for that place inside
The empty part of me
I try to be that man
You wanted me to be
All alone if I could take it back
I'd show you that I could
Be what you want me to

And I'll be what you say
And I will never take away
And I 'll follow you down that road,
Down that road again

Where will you be when this is
Over and all said and done
I try to warn you tell you
To not put all your faith
In what you see and maybe
You won't feel the hurt
Of losing everything you have
I didn't mean to hurt you
Cause you pain, or make you die inside

I'll be what you say
And I will never take away
I'll follow you down that road
Down that road and I'll be
What you say and I will Never take away and I'll follow
You down that road, down that
Road, down that road again

I'll be what you need
I'll take it back
I'll teach you how to love again
And I finally see what you wanted
And I, I see your face without
Tears longing for that place
The empty side of me
I'll try to be that man

You wanted me to be all alone,
And I will take it back
I'll show that I will be
What you want me to,

And I'll be what you say
And I will never take away
I will follow you down that road
Down that road, and I'll be
What you say and I will never
Take away, and I'll follow you
Down that road, down that road
Down that road down that road again
Again.
