"Man In The Moon"

Stories from the deepest part of my heart
Delving under cause to wonder, why am I falling apart
Scattered all around this topsy turvy room
Will I find the one who takes me there too soon

When the night is cold and you can't find anything
And your will to survive's at an all time low
The spirit will fly and return with a new found energy
So keep it within, delight as your garden grows

Whispered in some lonesome voice, too afraid to come out of the dark
Sinking down into the covers sleep to the beat of your heart
Spinning all around this most peculiar room
Will I find the one who takes me there too soon

Do be kind and civilized
And don't descend into the dark abyss

When the night is cold and you can't find anything
(There's nothing there to be found)
And your will to survive's at an all time low
(Moon is shining)
The spirit will fly and return with a new found energy
(Keep your heart like a swan)
So keep it within, delight as your garden grows

Do be kind and civilized
And don't descend into the dark abyss

When the night is cold and you can't find anything
(There's nothing there to be found)
And your will to survive's at an all time low
(Moon is shining)
The spirit will fly and return with a new found energy
(Keep your heart like a swan)
So keep it within, delight as your garden grows

And the man up in the moon is shining
Good fortune down on me
And the man up in the moon is shining

Sweet love, sweet love
