yesterdays, yester years, a thousand laughs a million tears, in search of someone i'd recognise someone whose love would come to stay someone whose name i'd love to say

you're the one,
that my heart knew was there,
somewhere.
you're the one I just had to find, you're the one that my soul sings a song to,
belongs to,
you're the one.

Testing strengths, testing fears, stop and start change of gears,
so many rivers bridges and roads,

Longing to show the way i care, with someone who gives and takes fair share

that my heart understands your my woman, you're the one born to love me you're the one that my soul says yes to.
Bless you.
you're the one.

you're the one, that my heart knew was there,
somewhere
you're the one I just had to find,
you're the one that my soul sings a song to,
belongs to,
