My girl, some things are meant to be

I told you once, I told you twice
That boy you been with, doubt he ain't right
I see the tears, you try to hide
That boy you been with, way out of line

I've been there through sun and rain
I've been there to ease the pain
Got to learn how to break the chain
Girl if I gave you

If I gave you my world, would you be my girl?
What would it take? I'd wait forever
Some things are meant to be, you and me

And if you take a piece of my heart, a touch of your soul
Look what we've got, we fit together
I know this much is true, I was made for loving you

Just ask your friends, I've seen him out
That boy you been with, he's playing around
I'm here because, confirm your doubt
That boy you been with, to me he ain't down

I'll be there though time will change
I'll be there, I'll be the same
Till you learn how to break the chain
Girl, if I gave you

If I gave you my world, would you be my girl?
What would it take? I'd wait forever
Some things are meant to be, you and me

And if you take a piece of my heart, a touch of your
soul
Look what we've got, we fit together
I know this much is true I was made for loving you

You make it, you take it
It's clear to me there is something between us

Mistake it, my heart's breaking
I'm begging you please

I've been there through sun and rain
I've been there to ease the pain
Got to learn how to break the chain
Girl, if I gave you

If I gave you my world, would you be my girl?
What would it take? I'd wait forever
Some things are meant to be, you and me

And if you take a piece of my heart, a touch of your
soul
Look what we've got, we fit together
I know this much is true, I was made for loving you

If I gave you my world, would you be my girl?
What would it take? I'd wait forever
Some things are meant to be, you and me
And if you take a piece of my heart
