I got up this morning and fell out of bed
Trying to make it to the door
The wind was high, I didn't have much time
Trying to find a man to score

And then you came up
On the other side
To brighten up my day
I knew right away
That this could be my day

Someone like you
Could make me change my ways
Someone like you
Could turn my nights into days

There you were, standing
On a crowded street
You looked so good
Though the air was bad
Walking through the fog

Someone like you
Could make me change my ways
Someone like you
Could turn my nights into days

I want to thank you, thank you now
For getting me back on my feet again
I want to thank you, thank you now
For getting me back on my feet again

Someone like you
Could make me change my ways
Someone like you
Could turn my nights into days

Someone like you
Make me change my ways
Someone like you
Turn the nights into days
Turn the nights into days
