

Eric Clapton "Something Special"

She's something special, I can't explain it
But when she's near me, I can't contain it
And just one look at her face is good enough for me

No way of knowing which way I'm going
But I can't stop it, it keeps on growing
And just one look at her face is good enough for me

She ain't too pretty, she ain't too tall
In fact she ain't too much of anything at all
I don't care what the people say
They're going to find out some sweet day

She is precious, she is charming
She is so innocent it's really disarming
And just one look at her face is good enough for me

She ain't too pretty, she ain't too tall
In fact she ain't too much of anything at all
I don't care what the people say
They're going to find out some sweet day

She is precious, she is charming
She is so innocent it's really disarming
And just one look at her face is good enough for me
Uhh ha, Is good enough for me
Uhh ha, Is good enough for me
