Verse 1

Now the season is turning, turning
The air is getting colder,
As we get a little older
We remember all the fun and games
We've had over the years
It goes by slow, but don't let go
'cause soon it disappears

Chorus

Suddenly it's over
As quick as it began
A graduates party
To warm nights on the sand
But this isn't California
Our summers have to end
Just remember our hometown
Where everything began

Verse2

By now I hope your learning
That You're not the only one
Wishing for the spring to come
Then you notice how the years
Flown over us so fast
No more hellos, time to let go
'cause now it's in the past

Pre-chorus

Im not the only one at night
Who wonders what it will be like
To finally live out our life
If well be alright

I think it's right to sing a song
For everyone to sing along
It wont be long until were gone
Don't let go, Hold on.

Chorus

Suddenly it's over
As quick as it began
A graduates party
To warm nights on the sand
But this isn't California
Our summers have to end

Just remember our hometown
Where everything began
Bridge/Pre-chorus
Now look where we've gone
We've been together so long
It's hard to Move on
I think it's right to sing this song
Don't let go, Hold on.
Chorus
Suddenly it's over
As quick as it began
But this isn't California
