Thirteen years ago when we were little kids
I thought you and I were the best of friends
We kept in contact but never not enough
I saw you the other day and girl you took my heart

I had my times where my life was high
I had a time where I could touch the sky
But it never came automatically
The only time it came...
When it was you and me

Time goes by before you even know
Now you're taller than me, how is that so?
We talk online, girl it's just not the same
Being with you just takes me away

I had my times where my life was high
I had a time where I could touch the sky
But it never came automatically
The only time it came...
When it was you and me

I look at my life at every single crack
Hoping one day to relive me flashbacks...

With you

I had my times where my life was high
I had a time where I could touch the sky
But it never came automatically
The only time it came...
When it was you and me

I had my times where my life was high
I had a time where I could touch the sky
But it never came automatically
The only time it came...
When it was you and me
