My path was chosen, my mind was set
Always trying hard to forget
Life was tough, the cards were dealt
I'm always finding ways to protect myself
People I love were always getting hurt
Always having pain they didn't deserve
I prayed every night for them to be free
The problems they have, I wish they would put on me

He was so great, she was so bright
Stuck in the middle of a non-deserving fight
He was not to be at fault, she was perfectly innocent
But the world just saw a couple immigrants

They were best, I can't deny
Always with me, deep inside
Time will tell, the future awaits
Is this the end, is this their fate
Built with faith, built with love
Trying to find strength, from god above
Every day I'm searching for help
Why trouble on them, why not on myself

He was so great, she was so bright
Stuck in the middle of a non-deserving fight
He was not to be at fault, she was perfectly innocent
But the world just saw a couple immigrants

No one believed them except for me
Without the two of them, my life's incomplete

He was so great, she was so bright
Stuck in the middle of a non-deserving fight
He was not to be at fault, she was perfectly innocent
But the world just saw a couple immigrants

A couple immigrants
