Life is ticking away and nothings going right
I'm hoping you are there so I can hold you real tight
But I realize we have changed in every single way
As my heart will always be broken, as long as you're away

My life is so confusing it's blurry in the light
I will always love and cherish you in my life
As time goes on and we're falling apart
Baby, I can not survive I really need you in my Heart

It's been ten years since we last talked
I was thinking one day that something was wrong
I know you have moved on but I can't let you go
Baby, I can not survive and baby you need to know

My life is so confusing it's blurry in the light
I will always love and cherish you in my life
As time goes on and we're falling apart
Baby, I can not survive I really need you in my Heart

My life is so complicated because you are gone
I'm still holding strength, I'm still holding on Just take my hand and take it real tight
I promise you. It's gonna be alright

My life is so confusing it's blurry in the light
I will always love and cherish you in my life
As time goes on and we're falling apart
Baby, I can not survive I really need you in my Heart

My life is so confusing it's blurry in the light
I will always love and cherish you in my life
As time goes on and we're falling apart
Baby, I can not survive I really need you in my Heart

My life is so confusing it's blurry in the light
I will always love and cherish you in my life
As time goes on and we're falling apart
Baby, I can not survive I really need you in my Heart
