She knows what she wants, and just how to get it
She's glad that it's hers, even if she'll regret it
And she
She knows what she wants, and I don't know why
She thinks that she's tough, but I've seen her cry
And she
She

She says I don't know what I'm doing here
She says I don't know what I'm doing here
She's a material girl in a material world
But she's got me
We toured this world like we were on a bus
Waiting till it's all been settled like dust
But I can't help but wonder who backed down first
The world or us

I've seen her at her worst, and her at her best
For different reasons I was equally impressed
And she
Her cellular phone rings right off the hook
She's harder to read with each page of a book
And she
She

She says I don't know what I'm doing here
She says I don't know what I'm doing here
She's a material girl in a material world
But she's got me
We toured this world like we were on a bus
Waiting till it's all been settled like dust
But I can't help but wonder who backed down first
The world or us

She puts out my fear like a drop to a flame
When the blind lead the blind, no one's to blame
And she
She's got unspoken faith, but in nothing exact
That's why I've got faith in how she'll react
And she
She

She says I don't know what I'm doing here
She says I don't know what I'm doing here
She's a material girl in a material world
But she

She said all she really wanted to do was learn how to lie
She's telling me it's funny that she never really wanted to try
She smiled

We ride this world like we were on a bus
Waiting till it's all been settled like dust
But I can't help but wonder who backed down first
The world or us
We toured this world like we were on a bus
Waiting till it's all been settled like dust
But I can't help but wonder who backed down first
The world or us
