Driven so left field ignoring the sun
Coughing up the stars and still invisible to everyone
But you set my hands on fire till the ice is melted
Help me succumb
To any time or place until I'm finally faceless
Help me retrace my steps, it
And help me sound off these rusty submarine bells
Grab your local street directory look under H for help
Is it near?
Because when your car takes so much time to start these days

That when it does I'm gonna disappear
To any time or place until your finally faceless
When all you want is giftlessness just to drive
For miles and miles
And who needs love when you can't Give up the ghost
