Running around the white picket fence
I am scared I'll have the guts to...
The guts to try
Flying nowhere near heaven sent
The rain falls hard but i still stay dry
Why is all that seems, all that Seem so sweet stay so short Finally open up and find your soul has been bought

Correspondence not withstanding it took so long to let you in
So I could give you a safe landing

You verged on near obsession you woke me up
I dropped my guard now I'm receiving this mixed blessing
If you could see how far if you could see how I go
In my mind and I won't let you I wont let you leave me blind
Drowning by the riverbed
I'm not under ground well but what about you?
Running around so disconnected
I'm so scared by the marks around your breath
But thanks for trying

Watch the ink run from the letter I'll find a way, decode your mind do your best not to remember
Your head behind the sill now
I am awake, an antidote a fog of breath outside your window from you
From you
It's a song with in a song within a song

I'm trying.
