How many times
Must I get on a different track?
It's all ok, you know I'll soon head back
I won't stay for long 'cause all is in this day
Now my dreams have landed on your name

I see what's on your mind
Every single day
So hang on
Love itself weighs on your back
You don't lift me up by being down

How many times must I get on your track
I'm not just someone who will fall in place
I'm the devil in your footsteps killing time
I brought you down to say
That your deams have landed on my name

No reason to hate me when I'm gone
No easy way around
So hang on

Love itself weighs on your back
'Cause you don't lift me up by being down

Now I'm on my way
I never meant to fold
But I feel fine
Now I'm in this day
I won't crawl
I feel fine
I don't need an ocean
I don't need it all
I feel fine
