"When You Fall"

You used to live
In a different world
Far away from tears
In a different world
Suddenly it's gone
you hurt inside

Surrounded by A cold reality
A pain you can't deny
That no one else can see
You got so much to give
But it's over, over

When you fall
Let your wings
carry you
When you fall
Let your hope
pull you through
When you fall
when nothing seems
to matter anymore
You'll be alright
When you fall
When you hear yourself cry
When you fall
Please hold on, gotta try
When you fall
When nothing seems
to matter anymore
You know you'll be alright

Alright again
Take your time to heal What's gone is gone
though it feels unreal
you need to take it in cause it's over, over

When you fall

Let your wings
carry you
When you fall
Let your hope
pull you through
When you fall
when nothing seems
to matter anymore
You'll be alright
When you fall
When you hear yourself cry
When you fall
Please hold on, gotta try
When you fall
When nothing seems
to matter anymore

Hold on be strong
you used to be so confident don't let that slip away

When you fall
When you fall
When nothing seems
to matter anymore
You'll be alright
When you fall
When you hear yourself cry
When you fall
Please hold on, gotta try
When you fall
When nothing seems
to matter anymore
You know you'll be alright
