To the sound of the school bell we take off
To go all the way we been ground with your hand in mine hand you smile to the pouring rain yeah we were ready to go were the young people go when they know they are about to grow up to the sound of church bells angels sing to a perfect beat we sneak up the stairs and you close the door this is what we've been waiting for too young to know is it love we're making dying to know

your body
can't let go is it love we're making too young to know
you're body

on the floor in silence out of work and your trembling arms guess we crossed every border over and out on the other side yeah we were ready to go were the young people go when they know they are about to grow up guess we made it together forever see in your trembling arms we sneak out the back door and meet the world there is no way back to upbeat world

is it love we're making
can't let go
is it love we're making
