June fell in love in the summertime

Her heart was broke to pieces in the fall

She laid them there to rest in the wintertime

Hope arrives when New Year comes to call

June (June)

The springtime will be different, little June

True love doesn't fade with the seasons

Your heart will find it's true love soon

June settled done with a tall man

His hair was like the purest snow

And though he was, in all respects, a kind man

Where her heart belonged she didn't know

June (June)

The springtime will be different, little June

True love doesn't fade with the seasons

Your heart will find it's true love soon

June can't forget every summertime

The love she left behind in the fall

Winter brings a sting cold and bitter

Where she left her heart, she can't recall

June (June)

The springtime will be different, little June

True love doesn't fade with the seasons

Your heart will find it's true love soon
