I separated my heart from my head to feel out what's inside
I don't like what I see so I say Goodnight.

Don't wake me cause I'm dreaming in color black and white is not my friend-candy coated figures hold me in my bed.

I've never been so deep inside a shadow
I've never been so insecure of what I know
I've gotta figure it out
I need a story to tell.
Where's the feeling I long for
I've gotta figure it out before I lose you love.

Big city streets are calling me loud the busy keeps me high
But this quite town is weighing me down tonight.

I know that I should stay here for a while, listen to the sound of my shakey heart
Looking for gold in the ground.
I've never been so deep inside, a shadow
I've never been so insecure of what I know
I've gotta figure it out
I need a story to tell
Where is the feeling I long for I've gotta figure it out before I lose You Before I lose you- ohhh

It's not okay to make your way, to make you wonder Why I can't hold you close and give you hope and this will be all right.
I wanna make it right
I've gotta figure this out
I need a story to tell
Where's the feeling I long for
I've gotta figure it out
I've gotta figure this out
I need a story to tell
Before I lose you

Before I lose you
Before I lose you love
