I'm a sad lonely man who walks in the night
Stopped here at your tavern it's the last one in sight
I have no destination I hope you won't mind
I'm a sad lonely man that love left behind
To me nothing matters there's no hope left within
The one love I live for is gone with the wind
These tears you see falling don't blame on the wine
I'm a sad lonely man that love left behind
[steel]
My clothes I have tattered but these lines in my face
Were put there by heartaches that time won't erase
I can't claim the future but the past is all mine
I'm a sad lonely man that love left behind
To me nothing matters...
