You;re the only love I knew,and I thought that you were true,But one by one you've broken every vow;And all the things you seemed to be,foolrd a dozen more than me,You're bound to suffer and I'm wonderin'how. Wonderin;how I'm gonna face tomorrow-it seems thewre's nothing left to live for now;But as long years come and go,you're the only one I'll know,and I'll get by,but,Dear,I'm wonderin'how. If you still think that you're right when you read this note tonight,I'll never bother you again,I vow;But I am so afraid that your happiness will fade,you're bound to suffer,and I'm wonderin'how.
