I had a dream last night, I dreamed you held me tight You filled me with delight, so real it seemed I thought you kissed me too it thrilled me through and through Just being there with you last night I dreamed

And then there came the dawning, when I awoke you were gone
I can't forget you my darling, my love for you still lingers on
So please come on home although you were wrong
I just can't go on last night I dreamed

And then there came the dawning, when I awoke you
were gone
I can't forget you my darling, my love for you still
lingers on
I just can't go on last night I dreamed
