"Hold On"

Squeeze my heart, hold it tight
Through darkness, through night
So expected to make these noises
Voices, who all follows me
Who rest in my shadows of exhaustion
I knew the day would come

Take away this spell you've cast over me
Pick up the pieces
Hold on, hold on
Maybe it's not too late
Maybe it's not too late

These walls are closing in
Wash away my sins
Waiting cold, loosing mind
Sure you'll lie until the end of this
Cure my pain with a one last kiss
Your guardian will leave
You'll feel blue, loosing sky
Thousands of wantings, now you don't know what to do

Take away this spell you've cast over me
Pick up the pieces
Hold on, hold on
Maybe it's not too late
Maybe it's not too late

Hold on, hold on
Don't wanna wake up and find out that he's leaving
Hold on, hold on
So many wantings, so many tries
Hold on, hold on
You're loosing sky
