I'm already dead
But still you're confusing my head
Drowning in memories from the past
Breathing hard to the last
Lying facedown to the floor
Ready to open the door
But there's something wrong
This isn't where I want to be

Living is the hardest thing for me
I'm not made to survive
This were never where I wanted to be
Since you've been gone
There's nothing left for me to see
Where will I go?

Can't keep on hiding
Secret places are too hard for finding
Never asked why
I just watched him make me die
Looking for him deep inside my soul
But all that's left is an empty hole
There's something wrong
This isn't where he used to be

Living is the hardest thing for me
I'm not made to survive
This were never where I wanted to be
Since you've been gone
There's nothing left for me to see
Where will I go?

It's hard to stand tall
To stay strong true the fall
My mind is a mess
My heart is too small
I'm sick of it all

Living is the hardest thing for me
I'm not made to survive
This were never where I wanted to be

Since you've been gone
There's nothing left for me to see
Where will I hide?

I'm already dead
But still you're confusing my head
Drowning in memories from the past
Breathing hard to the last
Where will I go?
Where will I hide?
