Sitting on a wire fence
Staring at the sun
Fighting don't make no sense
Staring at the sun

We are only poor men
Nowhere left to run
We are only tall men
Staring at the sun

Walking through the dust again
Staring at the sun
Waiting to feel the rain
Staring at the sun

We are only poor men
Warriors and tall men
Staring at the sun

Dancing for rain
And walking in the dust again
Dancing for rain again

Dancing for rain
Until the river runs again
Dancing for rain
Dancing for rain again

Looking out through iron bars
Staring at the sun
All eye's in Africa
Staring at the sun

We are only poor men
Warriors and tall men
Staring at the sun

Dancing for rain
And walking in the dust again
Dancing for rain again

Dancing for rain
Until the river runs again
Dancing for rain
Dancing for rain again

Dancing for rain
And walking in the dust again
Dancing for rain again

Dancing for rain
Until the river runs again
Dancing for rain
Dancing for rain again

Dancing for rain
And walking in the dust again
Dancing for rain again

Dancing for rain
Until the river runs again
Dancing for rain
Dancing for rain again

Dancing for rain
(Walking in the dust again)
Dancing for rain
(Dancing for rain again)

Dancing for rain
(Until the river runs again)
Dancing for rain
(Dancing for rain again)

Dancing for rain
Walking in the dust again
Dancing for rain again
Dancing for rain again

Dancing for rain
Until the river runs again
Dancing for rain
Dancing for rain again
Dancing for rain
