Non-fiction, don't believe
The chances, I have to take Betrayal at its best is always second guessed
Try, I am healing
The pressure, so give me a reason now

it's been so long and I've waited
I've been waiting for so long
Don't fight it's hard to breathe when you're buried alive
You take this place for granted and you realize it's never enough
I've waited for so long this will never end

The reflection of false hope
We kept the secrets in the dark
And the values of our brothers inside
The shadows I can see can, see me perfectly
Their ratio
Is Ten to O

It's been so long and I've waited
I've been waiting for so long
Don't fight it's hard to breathe when you're buried alive
You take this place for granted and you realize it's
never enough
I've waited for so long (So long) this will never end

Oh, we're on top of the world, let's go
(Lets go!)
We're on the top of the world, oh
(Oh!)
We're on top of the world, let's go
(Lets go!)
We're on top of the world, let's go
(Lets go!)

It's been so long and I've waited
I've been waiting for so long
Don't fight it's hard to breathe when you're buried alive
You take this place for granted and you realize it's
never enough

I've waited for so long this will never end

Your death is written on paper

My heart is fueled by hatred

Fueled by hatred

Dragging (Dragging) dead bodies up really steep hills
