Non fiction
Don't believe in me
That chances I have to take
Betrayal at it's best is always second guessed
Try I am healing the pressure
So give me a reason now

It's been so long and I've waited
I've been waiting for so long
Don't fight
It's hard to breathe when you're buried alive
You take this place for granted
And you realize it's never enough
I've been waiting so long
This will never end

The reflection
Of false hope
We kept the secrets in the dark
And the values of our brothers inside
The shadows I can see, see me perfectly
Their ratio is 10 to 0

It's been so long and I've waited
I've been waiting for so long
Don't fight
It's hard to breathe when you're buried alive

You take this place for granted
And you realize it's never enough
I've been waiting for so long
This will never end

Oh, we're on top of the world, let's go
(Let's go)
We're on top of the world
Oh (oh), we're on top of the world, let's go
Let's go

It's been so long, and I've waited
I've been waiting for so long

Don't fight
It's hard to breathe when you're buried alive
You take this place for granted
And you realize it's never enough
I've been waiting for so long

Your death is written on paper
My heart is fueled by hatred, fueled by hatred
Dragging (dragging) dead bodies up really steep hills
