this is the death of me i feel it constantly just like an enemy
that wants to see me bleed so i try to be silent but my words they explode like hand grenades i just gotta stay calm before i let this time-bomb blow up in my face these issues take me to the floor

these issues are my overload i feel so dominated these issues they choke me like a noose issues they choke me like a noose issues they choke me like the hounds of hell they cry that's how they get to me inject my head with lies the pain's astonishing like a brick or a stone slowly crushing my bone sending me to my grave and it's such a fake this life that i've made i'm going insane

i feel so dominated
