I'm leaving cause this town's lost it's charm
My home town pride, is practically all gone
And I'm leaving on the next train out of here Not turning back around and I'm not coming back for years

Rolling hills and deep blue skies, yeah california's calling it's calling me From Costa Mesa to the Hollywood Hills yeah california's calling, calling me

And when we get there anything could happen,
We could become the next overnight success
We'd rather hard and proves ourselves

Don't you know, it's a tough town to make it in Don't you know, it has suckered so many in
