I watched the sun come up this morning
But the sun has changed cause it doesn;t shine as bright without you here
I wish you were sitting by me
You've been gone a little while but it's been so long since I got to See your smile

Where do I go from here
What do I do without you
All I can do is dream
And try to hold onto memories of me and you

And I wonder how this town is treating you Now that there's nothing, nothing left that I can do for you
And I hope you know that I hope you're alright
As I lay in bed alone tonight
