Just last night I felt a fright
Like a thousand arms were holding on too tight
I tried to reach for you
My hands were closed but you fell right through

And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away from me

And I'm calling can you hear
And I'm drowning in the fear
It's pulling me under

I'm drowning in the fear
Drowning in the fear

Just last night I felt so scared
Like a thousand armies marching for the dead
I tried to find my way
Back to the place where I could make you stay

And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away from me

And I'm calling can you hear
And I'm drowning in the fear
It's pulling me under

I'm drowning in the fear
Drowning in the fear
And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away
I'm drowning in the fear

And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away from me

And I'm going under here
And I'm calling can you-
Don't look now cause it's pulling me under

Drowning in the fear
Drowning in the fear
And I just can't stop you slipping away from me
I just can't stop you slipping away
I'm drowning in the fear
