"Even If You Know Me"

I got this thing, though I don't want to
And I'd do anything, not to know you
But the fact that I sing 'cause I want to Puts me in a ring of fire

Have you had a day, you had to be alone completely?
Been looking for a place where the streets
And the sidewalks are empty if I must stay here
I wanna make it perfectly clear

To the ones who know my name
Or the ones who care about fame
You should know that I'm the same
It's just a little bit different game

Even if you know me, don't say hello, oh no
Got too many thoughts in my head now
Just wanna sit and watch them grow

Even if you know me, don't say hello, oh no
Got too many thoughts in my head now
Just wanna sit and watch them grow

Even if you know me, don't say hello, oh no
Got too many thoughts in my head now
Just wanna sit and watch them grow

Even if you know me, don't say hello, oh no
Got too many thoughts in my head now
Just wanna sit and watch them grow
