Just can't seem to get up today what was old and what was new it's all the same today the sun crept out the same as you exhale, exhale last breath smile you changed my whole direction the unexpected slap in the face you were as happy as prozac my prescriptions been replaced ruin and renew ruin and renew cut and paste here cut and paste here politics of your relations i can't stand in the fixation cut and paste here cut and paste here music's a happy daydream clouds race by like thoroughbreds there's one thing i must remember someday all of this will end
