He never thought the rain would fall
Must be losing his mind

Tried to predict the weather,
But he failed this time

One look at the sky, could tell you
Oh, it's unkind

I wasn't the one to steal
The money by your side

I'm an innocent, just as those who
Turn away their eyes

I'm as lucky as I can be, I know

It feels so lonely
When it's coming down
It feels so lonely
On the naked ground
It feels so lonely
When you're fallin' down

I never enjoyed the darkness
On the bottom floor

It felt like afternoon
Even though it was morning

Well it's better than spending all your life, outside

It feels so lonely
When it's coming down
It feels so lonely
On the naked ground
It feels so lonely
When you're fallin' down

I could see you there... Oh, I could see ya there...
