strip down all the baggage it always tends to weigh me down tied up strings are tied down it's a complicated web you weave hello hello i'm abandon put on your disguises find the darkest part of town call it liberation and mental slavery will weigh you down self destruction self destruct hello hello i'm abandon "well that's alright mama that's alright with me that's alright mama say any way you do thats alright that's alright that's alright mama anyway you do" discard your commitment and your conscious will weigh you down like lead feet in the ocean dropping down down down down hello hello i'm abandon
