Everything is expensive, yeah, this life is God pricey
Revenge is so costly, tell me what would you pay for a friend?

When everything is expensive,
Yeah, this life is pricey.
Revenge is so costly,
Tell me what would you pay for a friend?
And if I tore all my good name,
Would you can be the career change?

Sell your soul, sing a song,
Sell your soul, play along,
Stay the same.

And if I tore all my good name
Would you can be the career change?

Sell your soul, sing a song,
Sell your soul, play along,
Never change.

Everything is expensive,
Yeah, this life is God pricey.
Revenge is too costly,
Tell me what would you pay for a friend?
And all the girls on the mall club
Who love the boys in the Vespas,

Sell your soul, sing a song,
Sell your soul, play along,
Stay the same.

And all the kids in the hip-hop
Just raise your hand when the beat drop.

Sell your soul, sing a song,
Sell your soul, play along,
Never change.

Not everybody knows a name, who you are,
Now everybody knows your name, just who you are.

But everything is expensive,
Everything is expensive.

Never you mind, it's not a lie near.
Moment in time, you can't deny me.

See my reflection in the mirror,
It's clearer than you may.

Everything is expensive,
Everything is expensive.

Sell your soul, sing a song,
Sell your soul, play along,
Stay the same.
Sell your soul, sing a song,
Sell your soul, play along,
Never change.

And if you're asking me, the kids are not alright
