There was a boy, a very special boy,
Yes, he was a man child, how I love to be good and out.
I don't think he see me at all and he can see right
through me,
Did I manifested just so he could ask me?

How did I find you? How did I ever find you?
How do I get you alone?
If you had a mind, too,
We could spend some time to give up.
How do I get you alone?

There was a girl, a little, little girl,
People say she got an odd smile,
You could never figure it out.
But if you can see her at all
And now you're putting questions.
I think she manifest 'em, just so she could have him.

How did I find you? How did I ever find you?
How do I get you alone?
If you had a mind, too,
We could spend some time to give up.
How do I get you alone?

There was a girl,
You could see her lid up,
You could really see her lid up,
You could see her lid up,
You could really see her lid up.
You could see her lid up,
You could really see her lid up.
You could see her lid up,
You could really see her lid up.
You could see her, see her,
You could really see her, see her.
You could see her, see her, see her, see her
