"Blurred"

I can't sleep tonight. Your kiss still painted on my lips, my skin still burns from your fingertips. Speak slow, so i can breathe...and i died tonight, between these yellow lines (i died tonight). And night screams a terror to me will we matter? I'm bleeding words my mouth can't handle as yours says goodbye. Goodbye. Blurred this night, standing i'm bleeding words on my sleeve. (and i'll never forget the heart your hands had to mend) Tonight i found solace in you and from the rooftops saw roses sewn into the winter sky. Don't fade away, i can't breathe without you. I...still...smell...you.
