"Broken Sparrow"

Blank tonight...waiting for a....a way.....for a way to leave. And do you miss me now that you can kiss the clouds? I spoke to you in a dream, i begged you not to bleed...as your head lay there on the ground, a broken sparrow sings "sweet boy you'll break, if every day you live in memories of her embrace" So as this kiss falls to the ground, she'll shoot across this swollen sky. If i could pull from these bones the songs my heart cries for you.(you won't be alone) Blank tonight, waiting for a way to leave, waiting for a way to live...and i still miss you now that you can kiss the coulds. And i still see you in my dreams, but a dream is just a dream. So as this kiss falls to the ground she'll shoot across this swollen sky. If i sing these songs to you, you won't be alone tonight.
