"Lost Somewhere Between"

With my guilt and my fear I condemned myself
Into this eternal dream, that weights like sin
How easily a human life is ruined

Lost somewhere between, sure I fly, in the sea of flames
Lost somewhere between, burned to tears and I drown

Like a withered rose in the hands of a new-born Squeezed to dust and thrown into the wind

Lost somewhere between, sure I fly, in the sea of
flames
Lost somewhere between, burned to tears and I drown

With my guilt and my fear I condemned myself
Into this eternal dream, that weights like sin
