"So Silent"

My thoughts travelling the endless passage of curiosity Within hours I weaken
He stares straight through me
Hungering for the last of the glow in me Dilution of my will stealing all the odds

So silent, will my mind give up
Control is no longer up to me
Weakened I await for the final touch
of death to strike for me
So silent, So silent...

The candle on the table unmask his presence by a shadow and I feel the emptiness that Radiates from him

So silent, will my mind give up
Control is no longer up to me
Weakened I await for the final touch
of death to strike for me
So silent, So silent...

Absurd dreams reaching for a truth
Lost in the fantasy Beyond the walls of immortal life becomes reality

So silent...
