"My God, The Evil Wind"

I travel across the sea to the place where no-one's been Storm clouds above me, blue stream which knows me Sailing towards the darklands, tales tell me there is a man

He's the evil betrayer, he will die by the hand of a sailor

It's night, I close my eyes, there's no-one here, my god is blind

Gone with the tide, highflying mind... Betrayer!

I'm standing on the sea shore, palms full of black shallow water

A big stone behind me, a pagan statue is all I see

The statue carries a symbol, the symbol of my own god

I travelled so far, I did this all in vein

Salvation to come, God's order to be done?

That man who I can't win, he's my god, the evil wind
