Prophecies in my dreams
Dark rain forming black streams

When I'm waking up
I can still feel it
The deadly rain all over me

Autumn harvest is there
Time of the greatest loss
Take your final glance now

Prophecies in my dreams
Dark rain forming black streams

I dream of the tree
And the spirits around it
Looking calm, still crying for it all

Autumn harvest is there
Time of the greatest loss
Take your final glance now

As it was once told
Flames appeared in the nightly skies
Above this olden town
We were the ones
To guard you all, to soothe you in pain

Prophecies in my dreams
Dark rain forming black streams
I've foreseen this day would come
The city's dead, so few survive

We have always been here
Around the cherry tree
Trying to comfort you all... in pain
