"What Keeps Me Alive"

With rage I scream to you take me, take me away
This world is cruel people just betray,
I have no strength to play this game,
They always find someone to blame.

This eternal dreams are taking me nowhere
I can't breathe, I can't hesitate
And the more I run the wicker I get
And harder I forget.

I will close my eyes and try to remember what kept me alive
So many years passed by but I'm still lost and alone in my mind.

There's nothing you will say,
so I walk away.
Why am I here, am I really the one to blame
I'll disappear but my shadow will remain.
