Drive through

I want you to know

Just how it feels

To die on your own

Drive through

I want you to hand

Me up to the thieves

Who know you by name

Servant prostrate on the ground

Servant tell them what you just found

Not just a name, not just a cause, not just a feeling

Am i on the sun, cause i just called it home

I must have traded you for everything

Go find your maker

You make sense now
