

Ethan Durelle

"Marionette"

Visit "Marionette" on MotoLyrics.com

Your response times slow down once a week your colors change once in your life does shine this arch and are you not blind pin this writing to my sleeve paint it on my forehead make my eyes sting from it and starve this poet to death you thought it was the end but it's only from the wrong side the winter swallowed you whole but we'll fight back in the spring

This one is taking too long look back he's holding up the line one more time let's take it from the top and hang it on our wall just like religion say goodnight it comes on way to strong check your watch get a reading fast and this is careless taking charge Intuition is underrated your intentions are television

Visit Ethan Durelle page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.