Funny, you're a stranger who's come here
Come from another town
Funny, I'm a stranger myself here
Small world, isn't it?

Funny, you're a man who goes travelin'
Rather than settlin' down
Funny 'cause I'd love to go travelin'
Small world, isn't it?

We have so much in common
It's a phenomenon
We could pool our resources
By joining forces from now on

Lucky, you're a man who likes children
That's an important sign
Lucky, I'm a woman who with children
Small world, isn't it?
Funny, isn't it? Small and funny and fine
