the lifting fog
the clicking of heels on the pavement perfect setting of green and red for our blue angel to shine somehow everything's alright
the cinematic system that we know she'll skew authentic but how would rather go to dull indulgence when we could have the glow and so it goes
the mood saturates
a city awakes to the solace of her raven eyes the record's skipping a voice proclaiming guilt of love the only faultless crime move in closer

the cinematic system that we know
but who would rather go to dull indulgence
