(Spoken Word)

Learning to love life by living through loss
and mistakes,

Lessons Learned then gradually surfacing/

Letting go,

Stripping naked to scream/

I am not perfect, nor do I strive to be/

I am alive in this world of face first falls and public breakdowns/

I'm a retarded dis figured clown, dying to be heard for the simple art of letting this heavy wall finally fall/

I'm an equal being of no race, or color, a hallucination
if you will/

Sneaking into the the lives of strangers and letting them fall apart to a new rhythm/

Just to feel better.
