Many times, many times i fell in love with you and never showed it

Another way, another way, another way, another way to catch a sunny day.. It only molded

I'd run a mile, Run a mile, run a mile, Run a mile, I'd run a m hile for you...blind folded

And all the words, the words, the words, all the words you ever said to me will always be broken

So, so I put away, put away, put away, put away the words you never said to me ... and the scar thats open wide

You turn away, turn away, turn away, turn away, You turdned away from me... and never said goodbye

All the words, the words, the words, all the words you ever promised me were never spoken

And here I am, here I am, here I am, Im not afraid of you... but still broken

A hey ya, A hey ya A hey ya im still broken...
A hey ya, A hey ya A hey ya im still broken...

broken broken broken

broken...

And if you looked into my dark unhappy eyes... you would see tha tears that im choking

And if you touched, If you touched my heart ... you'd feel the the pain I call hoping

And dont you know, Dont you know i'd die from just a lie from you... yeah a tok
And even though. even though even though, zi know it could never heal... My hearts still broken

A hey ya, A hey ya A hey ya im still broken...
A hey ya, A hey ya A hey ya im still broken...

She always said A hey ya, A hey ya A hey ya im still broken...still broken still broken still broken...

She always said A hey ya, A hey ya A hey ya im still
broken...still broken still broken still broken...]]
